David Wehe Joins Hill International as Vice President in Washington, DC Office

Washington, DC -- Hill International, Inc., the worldwide construction consulting firm, has announced that David C. Wehe has joined Hill as a Vice President with the company's Project Management Group. Wehe will be based in Hill's Washington, DC office.

Wehe has more than 25 years of construction and development experience on major commercial projects throughout Maryland, Virginia and Washington, DC. Prior to joining Hill, he worked for Facchina-McGaughan Construction in a business development role. Before that, he was a Senior Project Manager with the Cordish Company, Regional Manager of Design and Construction for WP Commercial, and Vice President of Design and Construction for Monument Realty. Wehe earned B.S. and M.E. degrees in civil engineering from Cornell University.

"David has tremendous private-sector experience, on office, hotel and retail projects throughout the metropolitan Washington, DC region," said Gail P. Charles, Senior Vice President in charge of Hill's Washington, DC project management operation. "We expect he will be a strong addition to our team as we continue to grow our office here," Charles added.

Hill International, with over 700 employees in 21 offices worldwide, provides program management, project management, construction management and construction claims services. Engineering News-Record magazine recently ranked Hill as the 18th largest construction management firm in the United States. For more information on Hill, please visit our website at www.hillintl.com.
