Hill International Selected as Project Manager of Major Medical and Housing Complex for the 2006 Asian Games in Qatar

Dubai, UAE -- Hill International, Inc., the worldwide construction consulting firm, has announced that Hill International (Overseas) Ltd., a wholly-owned Hill subsidiary, has been selected by the Qatar Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Agriculture, Building Engineering Department, to provide project management services during the design and construction of Hamad Medical City, an expansion of the current Hamad Hospital and a complex that will also be used to house athletes during the 2006 Asian Games.

The expansion project will include a parcel of land adjacent to the current hospital of approximately 420,000 square meters and is expected to be completed by March 2006. Hill's services will include assisting with the planning, control, direction and evaluation of all work during the project development and construction phases of Hamad Medical City.

"We understand the magnitude and importance of this challenging assignment," commented Raouf S. Ghali, Senior Vice President of Hill International. "We are employing all available resources to assure it is completed on-time and within budget." Ghali added.

Hill International provides project management and construction claims consulting services through 19 offices worldwide. Engineering News-Record magazine recently ranked Hill as the 14th largest construction management firm in the United States.
